EASIER FEELING PREVAILS

Since The House Passed The Bill Appropriating Fifty Million.

THE MONTGOMERY AT HAVANA.

Mobilization of Fleet off Key West Goes on—Senate Will Pass The Appropriation Bill Today.

By Wire To THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Mar. 9—A somewhat easier feeling over the Spanish situation has followed the passage of the bill appropriating fifty million dollars for the national defense. The general opinion seems to be that the measure was one of peace rather than war and that no incurrence since the beginning of the Cuban controversy has done so much toward averting a conflict with Spain. The enthusiasm which prevailed in the house yesterday has taken possession of the senate today and the appropriation bill will be passed before the day is over.

SHOT A BOY.

Result of a Mad Dog Hunt in Salisbury.

A mad dog hunt in Salisbury yesterday morning came near costing a boy, Will Bullard, his life. The Salisbury Sun says:

While the dog was lying in a yard, having stopped to rest. Mr. Will Porter secured a gun, which had not been fired lately, with which he intended to kill the dog. But when he pulled the hammer back it failed to stand and the gun fired, a portion of the load entering the face of Will Bullard, a white boy, who had just come to the door of his father's house.

Dr. Brown was summoned to look after the boy and found that he was not seriously hurt. Five shot had entered his face, one of them penetrating an eye. It was not ascertained whether the boy will lose the optic or not.

It is also decorated with two large palms. The mantel is tastefully trimmed with silk screen and pot flowers, smilax and grasses. Wild flowers will be placed in the windows.

President Andrews Coming.

There is little need to say anything of President E. Benjamin Andrews, who lectures on Robert E. Lee at the Normal College on the 15th inst. It would be hard to find an American audience that does not already know that he stands in the front rank of America's educators, lecturers and thinkers.

The Augusta Chronicle, speaking editorially, says:

"It was a rare privilege which the people of Augusta enjoyed last night in listening to the lecture of President E. B. Andrews on the character and career of Lee. To say that his audience was charmed, would be but a commonplace definition of the rapt attention with which they hung upon his clear and concise presentation of the life of Lee and the sense of delighted wonder with which they followed him through the original views by which his lecture was characterized."

President Andrews should and doubtless will have a crowded house. Hacks will be run for the lecture as usual.

MARTIN ACQUITTED.

But There are Seventeen Other Indictments for Murder.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., March 9—When the jury retired last night they took only one ballot and it was unanimous for acquittal. The ballot was taken for form's sake as the jury had decided before leaving the box.

After the jury was thanked and discharged by Judge Woodward, District Attorney Martin asked that the defendants be required to continue their bail bond as there are still seventeen indictments for murder against them, and thirty-eight for felonious assault.

The bonds were continued and the district attorney said he had not decided what to do with these other cases but will confer with the prosecuting committee.

The deputies came into court this morning prepared to go home, some of them having packed their grips.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., March 9—The jury in the trial of Sheriff Martin and his deputies for the shooting of the miners at Lattimer last fall today brought in a verdict of acquital. The trial has been in progress for some weeks.

STUDENTS FIGHT TO THE DEATH

No Cause of the Tragedy Can be Learned.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Lancaster, Pa., March 9—Tremendous excitement exists here over a fight to the death between two male students of Millersvile school. One of them was killed and the other will die. The authorities have been trying in vain to ascertain the exact cause of the affair but have been unsuccessful. The school authorities so far have succeeded in keeping the names of the combatants from the police. None of their fellow students will say anything.

Bad blood had existed between the students, each having threatened the other. They met on the lawn this morning, a few words passed and each drew revolvers and began firing.

ANOTHER VERSION.

Lancaster, Penn., Mar. 9—Roy Gehrig of Milton, Pa., fatally shot Will B. Davis, of St. Clairs Pa., at Millersville school today. They went there to call on a lady and retired to the hotel together. Early this morning Davis came running down stairs saying his chum had shot him. Davis was in bed when Gehrig who was walking about the room shot him three timet in quick succession. A note left says they were in love with Alice Cummings and Annie Holmes and not being able to see them because they were kept away they resolved to suicide. Davis denies all knowledge of the compact to suicide.

BROWNSON SAILS FOR EUROPE.

New York, Mar. 9—Commander Brawnson sailed for Europe today on the St. Paul to secure options on war vessels. It is said that he will be in London two weeks. He goes with authority from the navy department and backed by the President to prepare for the exigencies of the occasion. It believed that the possibility of war is remote but the best prevention of war is to prepare for it.

GOVERNOR'S LITTLE JOKE.

Will Put No Obstacle in Dr. Thompson's Way to Enlist in Militia.

Friday evening last Governor and Mrs. Russell gave an oyster roast at the Executive Mansion at which the State officers and justices of the supreme court were invited guests.

The oysters were sent the Governor by some of his admiring constituents in Brunswick, the county of his nativity.

The Governor and his guests conversed freely on matters of State and nation. Not least among the subjects talked of was the probability of this country becoming involved in war with Spain. The question of drafting troops from North Carolina interested Secretary of State Thompson.

"Well," said that State officer, official duties as Secretary of State will preclude the possibility of my taking up arms, however much I might desire to get in the fight."

The Governor looked quizzically at his secretary of state, and remarked: "The appointing power still resides in the Gubernational chair and I see no prospect of a change in the prerogative."

The laugh was on the secretary of state, and none of the guests enjoyed the joke more than the Governor.

Before the roast was over Judge Douglass was trapped in the same manner. He too stated in a very innocent manner that his judicial duties would prevent him from joining the militia in case of war.

Auditor Ayer recalled the Governor's remark to Dr. Thompson, and the laugh was on the judge.—Raleigh Post.

More Accurate Service in Greensboro Than Baltimore

Mr. C. M. Vanstory had his little girl's eyes examined in Baltimore last year and went with the prescription to one of the largest and best known optical houses there to have the glasses made up. FORTUNATELY one of the lenses got broken recently and was carried to the Greensboro Eye Specialist to be replaced. He saw at a glance that neither lens accorded with the prescription, and so changed them both. Mr. Vanstory sent the old lenses with an explanation to the occulist who had given the prescription and in reply received the following;

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 9, 1898.

You can get the telegraphic news twelve hours earlier in THE TELEGRAM than in any paper that gets into Greensboro, and for four dollars a year less.

Spain has reached the conclusion that after all General Lee is a pretty decent fellow.

When the New York Journal said that "Dixie is now applauded in Boston and Yankee Doodle in Charleston" it phrased very happily.

Spain might raise a counterblast to the fifty million dollar war appropriation of the United States by mortgaging the imagination of General Weyler.

A good many people will see the Montgomery go to Havana with dread not because of the four Spanish warships there but because of the accidents for which that harbor will be forever infamous.

Mr. Hanna, after one prophetic blast to the effect that there was no danger of a conflict, seems to have wrapped about him a silence which in his case must always be many times more eloquent than words.

It would be a joke on the military companies that have looked killing on parade, gone into encampment for a week or two in the dull season of summer and rubbed up their accoutrements once a year.

Germany has found out that American apples are lousy and American pork is full of trichinale. If she will kindly make known what afflicts the Americian jingo she will dispose of a large slice of curiosity.

The announcement of Senator Mills that he will not stand for re-election takes out of the senate one of its ablest and most sterling members. It is doubtful whether Texas can fill his shoes, even though he is a rather crusty citizen.

The murder of the negro postmaster in South Carolina brought out one notable fact. The press of the south almost universally condemned it without reservation while the press of the north did not assume the old time pharisaical, holier-than-thou tone. It even went further and declared such appointments unwise.

With the Cuban war on her hands, hostilities renewed in the Phillipine islands, an impending struggle with the United States and Weyler and a depleted treasury making trouble at home Spain may be said to be in a truly bad way. If she manages to come out of it at all with any shred of her honor or credit left it will be a magnificent example of either courage or diplomacy.

As senator, Butler continues to do good Work—Progressive Farmer.

And as a throttler of octopi, an exposer of conspiracies and chief champion and defender of the people is not his work also goodly? Can it be that this little squiblet is an insinuation that as national chairman Mr. Butler is not a success? He is a success, a howling one. Anything Mr. Butler does is good. The test of whether anything is good or not is whether Mr. Butler does it. Why should the Progressive Farmer talk platitudes?

It begins to appear that there is another figure-head in the cabinet besides Sherman. Secretary Long strenuously opposed putting the Minneapolis and Columbia in commission and it is even alleged that the order was not made through him. In any other country than this such disregard of the views of a cabinet officer as has been shown in the case of both Sherman and Long would have been promptly followed by his resignation. The resignation of Mr. Long would be rather welcome. He allowed his mouth to go off prematurely in absolving Spain from guilt before the board of inquiry had reported and he seems disposed to join Reed, Hale and Boutelle in playing dog in the manger to proper defensive measures. There is no longer any concealing the fact that the chances are in favor of war, though it may, of course be averted, and to wait for actual hostilities under such circumstances would be a piece of utter stupidity. Meantime President McKinley is to be commended for his sudden display of backbone. The responsibilty falls on him and he does right to force his own views of what is wise under existing conditions.

General News in a Nutshell.

Dr. Pagelo, the young Italian doctor whose part in the unpleasant episode between George Sand and Alfred de Musset at Venice was made public in several books two years ago, died recently at Belluno at the age of 91 years.

Switzerland has been obliged to take measures against illiterate immigrants owing to the influx of Italians. The canton of Zurich has established compulsory evening schools for Italian workmen who are in the canton.

Korea's first railway, twenty-five miles in length, is being constructed by American contractors. It is to extend from Chemulpho, on the Yellow Sea, to Seoul, the capital. The excavating and rough work is being done by native laborers, who receive 35 cents per day.

A native of Camden, Ark., D. F. Jeffus by name, who does not like the way things are being run at the White House, has announced his intention of becoming the next President of the United States. Mr. Jeffus is at present a farmer, a poet and an unordained Methodist minister. He proposes to attend college for five years after his election and before assuming his official duties.

Verdi's latest composition, a Stabat Mater for chorus and orchestra, a Prayer to the Virgin for four female voices, and a Te Deum for chorus and orchestra, will be performed for the first time during Holy Week at the Paris Grand Opera.

Count Tolstoi is preparing what will be his most widely read book. "I do not feel well at present and cannot write just now," he recently said to an interviewer, "but I hope before I die to say a good deal about women. Before my death I shall say everything that I have heard about them."

A Chicago drummer recently compelled the Illinois Central railroad to carry him from Fort Dodge, Ia., to Sioux Falls, S. D., in a private car. He had engaged a sleeping car berth from Chicago to Sioux Falls, but at Fort Dodge the conductor informed him that as he was the only occupant of the car the company desired to run it back to Chicago. The drummer refused to wait for the next train, threatened a damage suit, and was finally carried to his destination in a special car.

THE DEACON'S PIETY.

IT WAS EQUAL TO ALL OCCASIONS AND LASTED OVER EIGHTY YEARS.

Suspended Religious Services Indefinitely to Nurse the Victims of a Smallpox Epidemic—An Example In This as He Was In Devotion to the Flag.

Deacon William Trowbridge was a small farmer living near Sheboygan Falls. He went there over 50 years ago. Besides tilling a little patch of ground the deacon, who was indeed the very soul of honor and ever had the respect and confidence of all in that community, was in the habit, before regular preachers were sent there, of reading a sermon or exhorting. There was no sham about Deacon Trowbridge's piety. He was sincerity itself.

Fifty years ago the little village was visited by a smallpox epidemic—an old fashioned, widespread and spreading epidemic—and they didn't know how to scotch it as well as they do now.

The first Sunday after the dreaded disease made its appearance the deacon's congregation was quite large. At the end of the services he made an announcement in about these words:

"These services will be postponed until after the smallpox disappears from the community. From this on I shall give my services to the stricken families. I shall minister to their wants, help to nurse them, and when they die follow them to the grave. It may be a long term or it may be a short term, but, however long or however short, it is my plain duty to help my distressed neighbors."

The word was well suited to the action which followed. The good old deacon hurried to his home, changed his clothes, bade his family goodby and at once began his work of mercy. What a work it was! The epidemic lasted nearly all winter. Large numbers died. Few in the village escaped the disease. The deacon's example was followed by others. Men went to their homes, told their wives and children what the deacon had said and was doing, arranged their business, provided fuel and provisions, kissed their dear ones and went to the aid of the unfortunate. Like the deacon they went without reward or hope of reward. Like him they spent weeks and some of them months in that service without daring to go home lest their dear ones catch the disease.

The strangest of all this strange experience is the fact that neither the deacon, the good souls who imitated his example nor their families were overtaken by the malady, notwithstanding the fact that the watchers, helpers and nurses were almost constantly in the presence of the suffering patients and notwithstanding the fact that they laid out and helped to bury the dead.

Nearly half of the deacon's congregation had disappeared when, the next spring, he resumed services in the schoolhouse. It was a sorrowful Sunday. Those in the audience who had not lost members of their family had lost neighbors and dear friends. When the good old Christian had read a chapter, prayed and talked a practical sermon, he referred feelingly to the scenes through which the community had passed. I think every man, woman and child in the room, including the deacon, wept. At the close of the talk he asked all present to join him on their knees in asking that the community might escape such visitations for all time to come. It was a most earnest appeal. I believe that that prayer has been answered. There may have been a few cases of smallpox there since then, but there has never been an epidemic.

The Sunday after Sumter was fired upon, and while Deacon Trowbridge was conducting services in the Baptist church, the denomination to which he belonged for over 80 years, he and his congregation were disturbed by a great commotion in the street right in front of the church. There were beating of drums and sounds of fife much out of tune. It was so uncommon a thing that most of the congregation walked or ran out of the church. Finally the deacon closed the Bible and slowly followed his fleeing flock. When outside, he asked the cause of "this unseemly disturbance on the Lord's day." Some one told him that the president had called for soldiers to uphold the honor and the flag of the nation and that they were going to raise a company right then and there.

The old deacon's eyes flashed as he walked out into the street, where a young fellow was irregularly pounding a bass drum, and said: "Nathan, I know it is Sunday and that all but the Lord's work should be abandoned, but the saving of our country and the shielding of its flag from dishonor is the Lord's work. Give me that drum." And the model of piety strapped on the big drum and went to pounding, greatly outdoing Nathan in two respects—he made more noise and kept perfect time. He drummed as no one before had never drummed in the little village. As if it had gone on lightning wings, word flew through the community that Deacon Trowbridge had left his pulpit to beat a drum, and on Sunday too.

Within half an hour nearly every one in town and many from the outskirts had gathered around the old drummer, all cheering him, and on Sunday too. That night Nathan Cole, who had been relieved as drummer by the deacon, went to Sheboygan with enough men to make up what became Company C of the Fourth Wisconsin.—J. A. Watrous in Chicago Times-Herald.

Tonsilitis Tonsilitis

Tonsilitis Can Be Cured. Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy will do it.

Eagle, Iredell Co., N. C.,
December 10, 1897.

For a long time my son was troubled with some bronchial trouble which, every time he took cold, settled in his throat and produced something like tonsilitis. The tonsils would enlarge and swell so that he had great trouble to swallow anything and could take no solid food. Last spring he took one-half dozen bottles of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy, and gargled with the Wash, and it cured him. He has not had a spell since.

FRANK D. JONES, Superintendent.

Poet and Queen.

Dr. Max Muller relates that the late queen of Holland frequently came to England and was fond of meeting while there distinguished literary people. On one occasion she lunched with Dean Stanley and asked him to invite several literary men, among whom were Tennyson, Lord Houghton, Huxley and Max Muller himself.

Luncheon was ready, and everybody had come to the deanery except Tennyson. Dean Stanley suggested that the party should wait no longer, but the queen refused to sit down before the laureate's arrival. There was another period of waiting, painful to all the company.

Finally some one suggested that probably Tennyson was "mooning about in the cloisters somewhere." One was sent to see, and the poet was indeed found there, apparently oblivious that anything was going on. He was brought in and placed at the table next the queen of the Netherlands.

The queen took the conversation into her own hands and in particular tried to draw Tennyson out. He was not in talking mood. She addressed him a question.

"Yes, ma'am," he answered.

Then there was another question.

"No, ma'am," came from Tennyson.

Again she asked his opinion about something. The question was not susceptible of answer by "Yes" or "No."

"Ma'am," said Tennyson after a great effort, "there is a great deal to be said on both sides of the question."

Presently he turned and whispered to Max Muller, "I wish they had put some of you talking fellows next to regina."

QUART BOTTLES.

This great blood purifier and nerve tonic, cures diseases by removing from the system, the conditions which produce them. It expels all poison and impurity from the blood. It acts upon the nerves as a stimulant, particularly upon those nerves belonging to the great organs of the body; therefore, it causes the heart to beat with greater force, the lungs to take in more oxygen and to expel more carbonic acid; it induces the kidneys to send off more of the poisonous excretions from the blood; the bowels to have more regularity and healthfulness in their action; the sweat glands to throw out more impurities.

Our Illustrated book of 36 pages will tell you what is the matter and what to do. Its free for the asking. Quart bottle, $1.00.

CHINESE DISHES AT FREE LUNCH

Bowery Saloon Keeper Combats Mongolian Competition.

A Raines law hotel keeper at the lower end of the Bowery, who always had a tempting hot free lunch for his customers, did a rushing business until Chinese restaurants began to open all around his place. Then, in spite ofenlarged schooners, the Chinese restaurants stole nearly all his business.

To offset their rivalry he engaged last week a Chinese cook who had worked for a long time in one of the Mott street restaurants, and now, in addition to the regular lunch one can get chop suey and yakey mien. Two large signs announce this fact. The Chinaman who makes the chop suey and yakey mien also waits on the table.

Other saloon keepers in the neighborhood are watching this experiment with a critical eye, and if their neighbor's continues to increase their is little doubt that they will have to follow his example.—New York Sun.

DARING LOVER.

He Intercepts His Sweetheart, Draws a Revolver and Brings Her Back.

Yesterday afternoon a party of young people left the city for a walk. They were going out in the direction of Garland. In the party was Miss Effie Roberts, of this city. When they were beyond the city a young man from Raleigh, Ruffin Holderfield, intercepted the party. He drew a revolver from his pocket and told Miss Roberts that if she did not leave her escort and return to Raleigh he would shoot her dead upon the spot. Of course it did not take her long to decide to come back to Raleigh with Holderfield. Holderfield is said to have acted through jealousy. The above are the facts as best they could be gathered today.

It is said that Holderfield cannot be found today.

He threatened to commit suicide when he saw his sweetheart start for the walk with his rival.—Raleigh Press-Visitor.

CAPTURED A TAR HEEL.

The Schooner Esther, of Edenton Overhauled in a Cove.

Havana, Mar. 8—The Spanish gunboat Ardilla has captured in an inlet near Casilda, on the south coast of Cuba, the American schooner Esther, Edenton, N. C., bound from Pensacola to Jamaica. The captain of the schooner was asked to give the reason for the presence of his vessel in the inlet, and claimed that his rudder was broken. No further details of the affair have been received, but if the statements of the captain of the Esther turn out to be correct the schooner will be liberated. The captain has protested against the seizure of his vessel. The Esther is of 1,131 tons gross registered.

The schooner Esther was later towed to sea by the gun-boat, after repairing her rudder and released, and has sailed for Jamaica.

Sun Starts a Blaze.

Cape May, N. J., Mar. 7—In the home of Tracy Grant, at West Cape May, yesterday, the woodwork of a sewing machine suddenly burst into flames much to the surprise of the members of the family. The blaze was extinguished, and then it was discovered that the rays of the sun had been focussed through an aquarium upon the machine.

A TEXAS HOODOO.

Why Senator Vance Objected to Reagan Taking His Chair.

One of the great tricks of ex-Senator Reagan, of Texas, while in office, was the making of "cat fiddles" or "cat cradles." All day long he would sit in his seat making the most complicated devices with a long string, the ends tied to his fingers, and to an observer in the gallery it would appear as though the whole weight of his intellect was devoted solely to the proper manipulation of the strings on his fingers, says the Louisville Dispatch.

Another peculiarity of the Senator was an annoyance to some of his superstitious colleagues. He had a great way of selecting any seat on the democratic side, provided it was not his own. Whenever a democratic senator was sick Mr. Reagan invariably appropriated his chair, and, as during the course of his career in the senate, a number of his colleagues died, Mr. Reagan was looked upon as a hoodoo for any sick senator whose chair he could appropriate. It is well remembered that on one occasion when Senator Vance was sick he wrote up to Senator Pasco, who arranges the pairs for absent senators, telling him that he was sick, and adding pathetically: "For heaven's sake don't let old Reagan have my chair." Senator Vance's chair was taken out of the senate chamber.

That $24 Explained.

While it appears from the state auditor's report that Lieutenant Governor Reynolds drew $24 extra pay in the late legislature, yet it is explained that this extra amount of salary as it should appear on the book keeper's records was drawn for Fred Nissen who, while acting as page, became seriously sick and had to return from Raleigh to his home here. Mr. Reynolds drew the money for Fred and delivered it to him.—Winston Journal.

Messrs. Wingate Bros., in addition to the Victor, are handling the Trinity wheel, which they are thinking of making a leader.

The display of sporting goods and bicycles made by Garland Daniel, is the largest and most complete, perhaps, ever exhibited here.

Greensboro tobacco warehouses had fairly good breaks this morning and the weed sold high. Thirty-four dollars was the highest rate paid.

Be sure you hear President Andrews, of Brown University, at the Normal College next Tuesday night, on the life and character of the immortal and peerless Robert E. Lee.

The illustrated song service given by Prof. Dobbins at West Market Street Church last Sunday night will repeated at Centennary Church at 8 o'clock tonight. Public cordially invited.

Have your tickets for Cherry reserved at once for Friday night. If this pretty weather continues we predict a crowded house. You know the merits of the play and of the players, and that both are deserving of the most liberal patronage.

Prof. Dobbins will deliver an illustrated lecture at the courthouse on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. This lecture is for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid society of West Market street church. Tickets on sale at Ward's drugstore and at Johnson & Dorsetts.

Dr. Charles D. McIver and 25 young ladies, composing the senior class of the State Normal and Industrial College, left today for Washington. This trip is an established feature of the college and is made annually as a part of the instruction of the senior class.

The road leading from the city to the Battle Ground crosses the railroad so many times that it is very desirable to have it straightened. For the purpose of conferring with property owners with this end in view a committee was appointed by the board of aldermen at their meeting Monday night.

The Lindsay Concert.

Packed galleries and a good sprinkling of people on the floors heard the Lindsay Concert last night at the Academy. Prof. Lindsay was assisted by the Æolian Club of A. & M. College which sang several selections very acceptably, being encored. The New England Trio, composed of two mandolins and a guitar, rendered popular airs. P. E. Robinson sang a character song which was well received. Miss Medora Richardson of Livingston College gave several piano solos. The whistling of Prof. Lindsay, his guitar juggle and tin flute performances were excellently done. He has undoubted musical talent. Altogether it was a very creditable affair. A mistake was made, however, in not having the program made out in full beforehand. This resulted in some loss of time.

Yellow Pine, 50 cents, is the cheapest because it cures coughs. All druggists.

Monday Night at the Academy.

The engagement of an artist of the aquirements possessed by Mr. Louis James who will play at the Academy of Music on Monday, March 14th, is an event of interest to all lovers of what is highest and best in the dramatic art. The play, chosen for the matinee is Shakespears grand tragedy Julius Caesar, with Mr. James in his noted impersonation of "Brutus." In this character Mr. James stands without a peer on the American stage today. The grand physique and the well trained voice of the actor make him especially well suited to the oratorical qualities which the baird has given to the philosophic Roman, while his own temperament mellowed by long and loving study of the interesting personality of the man who struck down his best friend in the cause of freedom, has brought him into thorough touch with the character.

Mr. James is one of the few actors on the stage today who has placed his art on a higher plane than a mere commercial basis. He has remained true to his ideals of what is the greatest test of an actor, and is therefore recognized today as the leading exponent of the great creations of Shakespear. His Othello, his Macbeth and his Brutus are unsurpassed.

The engagement is worthy of a liberal patronage and will doubtless receive it. The great Roman play "Spartacus" at night the favorite of all his repertoire will be presented when Mr. James will appear to the greatest advantage.

Ran Over His Neck Twice.

Last evening about dusk as two Caswell county farmers were coming into the city with tobacco they met Will Long on his wheel. Long says he was not riding very fast and that he noticed the driver in the front wagon had a slack hold on the reins. When about thirty yards distant Long says the horses shied and he dismounted, just in time to see the driver, whose name is Zack Page, pitch out over the front wagon gate, and two wheels passed over his neck before he could get up. His mouth was badly mashed and bled freely.

Long says he offered to assist the injured man by getting a doctor for him, but he and his companion, who was driving the other wagon, cursed him and abused him to such an extent that he left them. They threatened to have him arrested and told him he "had no business riding one o' them things anyway."

Page was suffering from a sore and stiff neck this morning, but his injuries are not serious. Long says both men smelled highly of whiskey and that if Page had been sober he would not have fallen out of the wagon; and if he had fallen out and been run over, sober, it would surely have killed him.

For The May Election.

The following bit of information was overlooked yesterday and is printed today for the benefit of Greensboro voters.

At a meeting of the board of aldermen held Monday night the election for mayor and city aldermen was called to be held on the first Monday in May, the 2nd day of the month. M. C. Workman was appointed registrar and the books will be kept open at Workman Bros furniture store. The poll holders selected are as follows:

First ward—A. M. McAdoo.
Second—J. T. Abbott.
Third—B. E. Sergeant.
Fourth—J. H. Rankin.
Fifth—John Lewis.
Sixth—R. A. Gilmer.

Only Brush.

A number of people have been deceived about dusk on recent evenings by a red glare on the sky. Some have even "chased themselves" out into the country in search of a conflagration only to find a smouldering heap of brush. It is the season when the farmer, suburban and otherwise, is "reddening up" his premises and he always waits till night to fire the rubbish and see the sparks fly upward.

Shaking Party Postponed.

On account of the lecture of Prof. A. Dobbins at the court house tomorrow night, the Shaking Quaker party announced for the same time at Dr. and Mrs. Whitsett's has been postponed. The date for giving this party will be announced later.
